Time: 18:00 CEST
Place: Zoom

Do you speak VISUAL? Did you know that using simple hand-drawn images for communication is a tool, accessible to anybody? It is much like speaking a new language. And it can be achieved much faster.

The webinar aims at supporting our learning and bringing us inspiration on how to use the power of visuals in our work as educators.

Let's learn together how to apply visuals in our in-person and online educational activities!

During this webinar, you will learn how to start using the visual language of hand-drawn images with ease and fun. You will learn how to draw simple illustrations including icons, people, processes as well as frameworks and you will also have the chance to experiment with implementing these drawing ideas for boosting learning - both when you need to educate or learn something new yourself. And additionally, there will be space to understand how to use all these techniques in an online format. In other words: this webinar can support you to become a better learner, thinker, communicator and visual educator while enjoying a gratifying relationship with your creative self.

Svetla Todorova is a visual facilitator and a training consultant with more than 15 years of experience in facilitating workshops.
